

Who's your dog?

Dogs come in all shapes and sizes. They also come with different lifestyles. Some can't wait to go outside and explore, while some are happy to curl up on the couch with you. Different lifestyles pose different health risks and present different health needs and treatments.

Ask us how your dog's lifestyle impacts their health at your next appointment.

THE HOMER

- A calm and constant companion, the Homer rarely strays from your side
- A cuddle on the couch and a good movie is the Homer's heaven
- The Homer prefers to play in the fenced yard, where no ferocious squirrels can scare him

THE DAYTRIPPER

- The Daytripper likes car rides, walks and occasionally an off-leash roam in the woods
- From time to time, she sees a city squirrel or rabbit, but most wildlife is on TV
- The Daytripper is up for anything, as long as she's with you

THE GO-GETTER

- The Go-Getter likes roaming around and exploring new places, with or without you
- Leashes get in the way of getting wet, dirty and having fun
- Chasing, and sometimes catching, critters is fun, fun, fun

So, which one is your dog?
